Between Us

If April showers bring May flowers, what June showers bring?

The past few weeks have found us dashing back and forth between showers, and umbrellas are quite in demand right now. Braving the showers one day last week, dressed in white sport outfit, was Latane Lanier, and evidently the rain didn't worry her as she walked very nimbly home from work—Virginia Bird was over for the week end from Mottor as the guest of Frances Kennedy; Virginia in brown and white checked gingham and Mary Frances in blue flowered print, both such pretty girls. When the Fourth of July comes around each year we always seem to get a bit more patriotic, and this year, with so much stress on the subject, we are even more so: Prueella Cromarty was dressed in navy blue military dress, Sunday and a jaunty little military hat. Those fortunate enough to hear Prueella in her voice recall the color. May might said she truly sang like an artist—Gertie Seligman thinks the hoodoo is after her. She had made plans to spend the week with some friends, but instead she will be at home to her friends at the Bulloch County Hospital. But flowers and attention mean anything to her, she won't lack those things to make the Fourth glorious—Did you see little Ruby Lee from Korea, through her broomstick skirt and white blouse on the street? She was getting her share of attention as she made her way through the crowd Saturday down town. She and Nona S. look like sisters instead of mother and daughter, both with long blonde hair and usually with the same color ribbon pinned on their hair—Religious speaking Statesboro has had the privilege of enjoying three ladies who have returned from the foreign field and who will be here until conditions permit, Ruby Lee from Korea, Sadie Maude Moore from Korea, and Blanche Bradley from China. Blanche has been at her work at a meeting the past week, and the numerous lines of the girls' and boys' school building, even though they did hit an empty house belonging to one of the past week, and the one of his, he said—At the tea given for Jean Kennedy this week everyone was won over by the charming, friendly and little daughter, Mary Weldon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bowen Jr. left today for Jacksonville where Mr. Bowen will stay until Sunday. Mrs. Bowen will spend next week with her mother, Mrs. French.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sargent will have as guests for the holiday week end Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Warbucks, Mrs. James Smith and Miss Katherine Donaldson, all of Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Murray and daughters, Ann and Jacquelyn, and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Oyster, of Augusta, left today for Savannah Beach, where they will spend the remainder of the week.

Mrs. D. C. McDougald, who spent several weeks in Tallahassee with Mr. and Mrs. Milton Hendrix, has returned home and was accompanied for the week end by Mr. and Mrs. Hendrix and little daughter, Mary Weldon.

Miss Wilson becomes bride of Mr. Lanier

A marriage of cordial interest to many friends was that of Miss Pay Wilson, formerly of this city, formerly of Atlanta, who was married to Mr. Lanier, and John S. Lanier, which took place in a quiet ceremony Wednesday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Lanier on Savannah avenue, with Rev. C. M. Coakley officiating in the presence of the families and a few close friends.

The couple entered together and stood before an improvised altar formed of pines, white gladioli and white tapers in cathedral candelabra. The blond loveliness of the bride was emphasized by her smart costume of navy with corsage of white carnations and navy accessories.

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Lanier left for St. Simons, where they will spend several days. Mrs. Lanier is the daughter of Mrs. D. N. Wilson, of Augusta, and the late Mr. Wilson. She is a graduate of the Savannah High School and has been assistant to Dr. Bird Daniel for some time.

Mr. Lanier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lanier, attended Georgia Teachers College and the School of Horology in Philadelphia. He is prominent in social and civic affairs, being a former president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. He holds a position with the H. W. Smith Jewelry Company here.

Mr. Brunson ill

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Robinson and Miss Hetty Ann Williams have returned to their home at Savannah Beach after a visit with J. A. Brunson, who is quite ill at his home on North Zetterower avenue.

Primitive Circle

The Ladies' Circle of the Primitive Baptist church will meet Monday afternoon, June 7, at 3:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. B. W. Cowart on South Main street, with Miss Ora Franklin and Mrs. Erastus McKell as co-hostesses.

MRS. BARGERON HONORED AT LOVELY TEA

Beautiful decorations of gladioli, feverfew and giant zinnias in multi-colored shades formed the lovely setting for the tea and miscellaneous shower given Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Joe Tillman, with Mrs. Arnold Anderson as joint hostesses, honoring Mrs. John Barger, recent bride.

Upon arrival guests were greeted by Mrs. Julia Tillman, who was introduced by Mrs. W. H. Blitch to the receiving line, composed of Mrs. Joe Tillman, Mrs. Arnold Anderson, Mrs. Barger and Mrs. E. L. Anderson, mother of the honor guest.

A musical program was rendered during the afternoon, by Mrs. Colyer Anderson and Miss Melrose Kennedy. Mrs. Jimmy Allen had charge of the bride's register and Mrs. Cliff Bradley was hostess in the dining room, where an ice course in green and white was served by Misses Margaret Helen Tillman, Miriam Lanier, Esther Lee Barnes, Virginia Ann Blitch and Virginia Strickland. Mrs. Thomas Blitch, Mrs. J. H. Bradley and Mrs. Harold Roach presided in the gift room, and others assisting were Mrs. W. W. Strickland, Mrs. Jim Williams and Mrs. E. B. Kennedy. A lovely arrangement of white zinnias and feverfew in a silver bowl decorated the tea table which was covered with a beautiful cloth. Green and white tapers in silver candelabra completed the appointments.

Change to be made in law affecting county commissioners bill introduced by Statesboro closed for Fourth of July; largest crowd was at Lake Wales, the new pleasure resort at Robert's mill, under Miami, and Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Evans and Gene Evans, of Septon.

CHALMETTE MONUMENT

This monument, located on the plains of Chalmette along the Mississippi river, just below New Orleans, marks the field where, on January 8, 1815, Andrew Jackson put a decisive end to the War of 1812 by overwhelmingly defeating the British Gen. Pakenham and his heroes of Waterloo. Surrounding the thirty-four majestic trees said to be the first grove of live oaks in the world.

INCIDENTS OF THE WEEK IN DEFENSE

Brief Summary of Steps Taken By Our Nation To Further Aid Democracies

President Roosevelt told his press conference he still hopes the U. S. can stay out of the world conflict. His statement was made in answer to a reporter's question if changing international situations had caused the President to alter his belief, stated in 1939, that the U. S. could and would stay out of the war.

Navy Secretary Knox told his press conference reports that navy vessels were engaged in convoy duty were "absolutely untrue," and said that the navy had lost lives, material or had been involved with any encounter with belligerent craft, were "most decidedly" not true.

OPM Director Knudsen issued a statement urging greater defense efforts, and said "nothing could be further from the truth" than that Russia's entry into the war had added danger to this country. Mr. Knudsen said "we are in somewhat better shape than we were last summer, but we need the spark of enthusiasm—yes, of patriotism—to carry the program forward faster."

Aid to Russia, France, China

Acting Secretary of State Welles announced Russian requests to buy strategic materials had been received and brought to the attention of the proper government officials. Mr. Welles also said the U. S. has under consideration a plan to relax export restrictions on Russian commerce to permit the flow of war materials to that country. He also announced U. S. and North African French officials have arranged a plan of joint continuous movement of two ships carrying tea, sugar and other food to Africa, and two carrying strategic materials to the U. S.

President Roosevelt suspended duties on British Burns vessels reaching the U. S. to aid the flow of supplies to China over the Burma Road. Treasury Secretary Morgenthau extended China's $50,000,000 credit here for another year. Assistant Commerce Secretary Hinckley asked commercial airlines for twelve transport planes to meet "emergency" defense requirements of the democracies.

Army

In his bi-annual report to the secretary of war, Army Chief of Staff Marshall urged that congress pass legislation permitting the use of armed forces outside the Western Hemisphere and permitting holding selectees, national guardsmen and reserve officers in the service for more than one year. Gen. Marshall said that conditions have changed to such an extent that a "grave national emergency" exists of a more severe character than the public realizes.

The war department announced it will promote its officers on the basis of merit instead of seniority and permit re-enlistment for regular army men only if they are qualified for promotion in order to weed out those not able to take advantage of further training.

Air

The war department awarded contracts totaling more than $478,000 for planes, engines and parts. The OPM announced its aircraft specialist, Merrill Meigs, will go to England to confer on production methods.

Gen. Arnold, chief of the army air forces, lowered requirements for pilots of heavy bombers so that fliers with 750 hour military programs to once could man the ships to be built at a rate of 500 a month. The air forces also announced experimental training with glider training for its personnel.

Selective Service

More than 750,000 young men who have reached 21 since selective service registration last October registered for service last week throughout the nation. President Roosevelt ordered 900,000 men inducted into the army as selectees now in service finish their year of training.

Pending final action by congress on legislation deferring men who were 28 on July 1 or before, the Selective Service Director Hershey ordered temporary deferment of this age group. He also advised local boards to defer registrants with one or more dependents to whose support they make "any substantial contribution."

The only exception to this, he said, would be men who married in the hope of evading service.

Army Recreation

The war department announced a program of stage shows at army camps throughout the country and said civilian contributions to soldiers' welfare will be co-ordinated by the Citizens Committee for the Army and Navy, Inc. Outstanding theatre men have made arrangements for five road shows to visit camps, using equipment built on trucks, the department said.

Congress passed legislation designed to prevent prostitution within a "reasonable" distance of military and naval reservations.

Defense Area Public Works

Congress voted $150,000,000 for construction of schools, water works, sewers, hospitals and other necessary public works in localities over-crowded by defense workers. Works Administrator Carnody established 11 regional offices to handle the program and select projects suggested by the communities and for which the communities will help pay.

The Preacher Backs Us

THIS EDITOR realizes that he is more or less a one-track-minded individual; when he gets started in a given direction he is apt to keep going till he reaches the stopping point, and sometimes he may even go past it. Be that as it may, he is purely human, and when he gets support from responsible sources, he feels justified in going ahead even at the risk of going too far.

Last week, you readers will recall, this column went into a sort of tantrum over the proposal from some source alleged to be scientific that men should be induced to adopt corsets as a responsible part of their wearing apparel. Because this column had been taught to think of the corset as exclusively feminine, a protest was made against the suggestion. The gist of the opposition was simply that no he-man could put on discarded woman's apparel, even if it promised an extension of days. The corset ended with these words:

"The question is simply, shall we like men with our pants on, or shall we live in corsets?"

No thought of the religious phase of the matter was in mind, and we readily expected an immediate answer to the question, but we were happy the day following to receive this letter:

"Metter, Ga., July 3, 1940.
"Dear Brother Turner:
"A friend handed me this week's issue of the Bulloch Times. I enjoyed reading your editorials, especially 'Manhood Ready To Surrender.' (See Statesboro News, 22-5.) I am not blue, nor am I sewing the world through blue glasses; but I can still see and hear. May you have many more years to write!"

"Sincerely,
"J. A. REISER."

Rev. Mr. Reiser is pastor of the Baptist church at Metter, and there, we appreciate his religious endorsement of our fight to keep men and women wearing the clothes which properly belong to them. It always confuses us to see a pair of pants going down the street and not know whether or not there is a man in them.

You readers who have not your Bibles at hand will be interested, we are sure, to be told the exact words to which our friend referred. These are the words:

"6. A woman shall not wear that which pertaineth to a man, neither shall a man put on a woman's garment: for whosoever doeth so, shall bring upon himself the wrath of God our Lord."

Sometimes we amaze ourselves at the instincts which control us. Nobody had ever told us that there was an element of religion in the matter of pants and no-pants for women; we just let the question pass as one of social etiquette, and let our prejudices control us. And at the same time we have been talking about men who stank a fancy handkerchief in the upper coat pocket and go around smelling of ladies' perfume; we just classed them as sissies who did not properly appreciate the call of real manhood; we felt ashamed when we walked down the streets dressed up in our broadcloth suits with cuffs on the legs; we just felt as if handkerchiefs in the coat pockets and cuffs on the pants were evidences of being over-bossed at home. We believe so yet, and no man is willing to admit that, however much it is true.

We have found scripture to back us up in regard to the handkerchief, but we have lost sight of the matter of pants cuffs. Read down the page a few verses and notice these words:

"11. Thine shalt not wear mingled stuff, wool and linen together. (Probably a silk handkerchief.)
"12. Thou shalt make thee fringes upon the four borders of thy vesture, wherewith thou coverest thyself." (And this, we assert, refers to the cuffs on the pants.)

Henceforth we are letting up on the cuff business; we may even add a couple of cuffs on our coat sleeves; but we stick steadfastly against women wearing britches and men wearing corsets, or handkerchiefs in their pockets. We may lose to our fight, but we dare anybody to convince us we are wrong!

For months Joe Stalin has been encouraging the democracies and the totalitarian governments to fight to the point of exhaustion so that he could pick up the pieces. It was a good idea, if it works, but there has been some slight variation to the plan.

WEDDING BELLS TO RING AGAIN IN FLAT ROCK ERE LONG a wedding of widespread interest will take place the latter part of this month under the auspices of the Methodist church. The parties who are making the match between each other are as follows, viz: Miss Ella Sarah Lou Ahlberg Perkins (she was named for two grandmothers and three aunts) and Mr. John S. Perkins, both of Alston. Mr. Perkins is a native of Alston and has been a resident of this town since he was a boy. He is a well-known and respected citizen of the community. Miss Ahlberg is a native of Alston and has been a resident of this town since she was a girl. She is a well-known and respected citizen of the community. The wedding will be held at the Methodist church in Alston. The bride and groom will be accompanied by their parents and other relatives. The reception will be held at the home of the bride's parents. The wedding is expected to be a very successful one.

the father of the bride, Col. Jerry mize adkins perkins, is now and has always been a useful citizen of this community. He never fought in any wars, but everybody calls him colonel because he has set on so many petty juries as foreman. He was also a candidate for the house 4 times. He acted as deputy sheriff for 2 months when the other deputy went off and forgot to come back. Nothing much is known of the bride's mother, who has been close to home and raised the children.

The father and mother of the groom have not lived here very long. He came down and took charge of the w.p.a. in 1938 and he liked it so well they decided to live in our midst. He sings in the choir and his wife is president of the mission-nertry society. Their son, the proposed groom, graduated in the cedar lake high and is now actively connected with the highest life insurance company in the south. He has over 100 cent-a-week customers and his list is growing every day.

the bride is a honor graduate in the flat rock high of '34. She later studied to be a trained nurse, but quit the job after she had given a patient the wrong medicine one night. She is very accomplished in many things, but do not like house work or field work, but would be willing to do clerical work for $25 a week, so she told the under-aged carry respondent last week. An out-of-town preacher will perform the ceremony. They are afraid to risk their local pastor, who he do not understand a ring ceremony.

VIEWERS AND REVIEWS FROM FLAT ROCK

Miss Jennie veeve smith fell out of her hammock in the boarding house, yesterday p. m. and got hurt a right smart. somebody had left an automobile jack under the hammock and that is what she struck. The jack was damaged only slightly; the handle was broke off. dr. hubbert green says that she will not be able to swing again for a week or so, she reads while in it and sleeps in it all so when she reads herself to sleep.

mr. alman chace, the third, is visiting again in flat rock from the army. he has gained 6 pounds and looks 2 inches taller. he certainly knocked all the dames cold when he marched into church last sunday with a pray uniform on. he is a copperhead. he had several meddles

SUBMITS PLAN TO FENCE HIGHWAYS

Would Have WPA Sponsor Fences Against Cattle Now Running At Large

Atlanta, July 7.—Opportunity for eliminating Georgia of one of her worst national "black eyes" has been presented itself—and yet there are some who oppose it.

The Works Projects Administration has opened the way for fencing Southeast Georgia's bloody highways which, because of roaming cattle, have become known as one of the worst death traps in the United States. WPA State Administrator Harry E. Harman Jr. said the WPA was "prepared and willing" to undertake fencing between 3,000 and 5,000 miles of highway to bar traffic-dangerous animals from the pavement, especially in Southeast Georgia and along the heavily traveled routes.

County officials of that section are said to be studying the possibility of developing the WPA's proposed program. There is, however, the possible opposition of cattle-owning farmers who previously have objected to "no-fence" laws on the grounds that they could not afford the expense of closing in their acreage. Highway embankments traditionally have been regarded as free range by many cattle owners.

Under the plan outlined by Mr. Harman, the WPA would undertake to fence the roads, with the counties serving as sponsors in the same manner that other work is handled. As a sponsor, each county would be required to pay not more than 25 percent of the total cost of the project within its boundaries.

The proposed plan was viewed with especial interest in the counties traversed by the tourist highways—the roads which annually are traveled by thousands of visitors through Georgia into Florida and out again. The Coastal Highway north from Jacksonville via Brunswick and Savannah to South Carolina is one of them. Other heavily traveled routes pass through Waycross, Valdosta and Thomasville into Florida. All roads are now open to roaming cattle and hogs are permitted to roam freely. Many serious accidents, resulting in death and injuries, have resulted from the uncontrolled movements of these animals.

Mr. ar square finally at last got his parity check. It got lost in the mail, having been sent to flat rock, n. j. he has rote to the post office department and has asked it to do away with all of the flat rock post offices in the world except the one that is his address. the poleman informed him that there were over 300 flat rocks in the u. s. besides his'n. he had already spent his parity check 4 times and had pledged it 3 times. his creditors will all have to wait until he gets another check; he needs this one himself.

some showers have fell at last in our midst. mr. sligh skinner has withdrawn his request for direct relief. he thought starvation was starved. he has been in the face a few weeks ago, but now as the ground has been wet again, he wants to make his own way and help with the defense. he has already sold a nice chance of string beans to pa. gassan with everything is honky. nothing much is known of the bride's mother, who has been close to home and raised the children.

IT'S AN OLD AMERICAN CUSTOM As our family get smaller, we, like other folks who are growing older, are adding to our house. There are just two of us at home now except occasionally and then there are three of us. We have only 10 rooms and 2 baths in our house; nothing would do the "head" but we add another bath. We had a closet that we wanted to convert into the needed (?) extra bath. We figured it would cost about $250 to turn the trick, but we got caught in the usual jam. (When we wound up it was about $2,225.00.)

After the carpenters arrived we found that the furnace needed cleaning out; it was letting smoke into the rooms. It was torn down for cleaning, and lo and behold! what do you reckon we found? It was busted, useless, wornout, decayed, rotten, and hardly worth hauling off for scrap metal. We decided the air-ducts were OK, but the heat-exchanger touched one of them and it fell down. So we had to put in a new furnace. The walls were so dirty and dingy in all the rooms, we had to paint and paper the entire interior.

After we got the papering and painting done on the inside, the outside looked so bad we had to paint everything outside from the porch-cochere to the backyard pergola, including the piazza, steps, floors, and everything else about that time we found out that all of our rugs and linoleum were worn completely out. We had to buy new ones out and out. We found out that a leg-bath tub upstairs ought to be a legless type and it soon was; she got new ones. The floors were already bad, but by the time the painters and the paper-hangers and the plasterers and the carpenters got through tromping over them, we had to have them sanded and re-done.

The old electric fixtures didn't match the wall paper. The kitchen floor had to be linoleum anew. The two ranges we had were outmoded and new ones were moved in. Even the mail box at the front door was junked and a brass one installed. Our pictures and mirrors were either too large or too small; they had to be replaced. Everything was wrong; nothing we had was worth keeping, so now we have a fairly nice home, no money, few friends, my bills, and lots of new furniture and since everything is so apic and span we can't switch on a light without washing our hands, or walk on a floor without first removing our shoes. Woe is mine.

START A BLITZKRIEG FOR BUSINESS

If business has fallen off or is a bit dull since the holiday rush, you will find that a well-planned advertising campaign will stimulate your trade and will bring customers to your store.

There is no need to wait until spring for a pick-up in business—it can be accomplished now through a punch-packed advertising program in the Bulloch Times.

Advertising is the tonic which stimulates business. A wise person never waits till he is well to take a tonic—he takes it when he is beginning to feel himself lag; well persons take a tonic to stay well.

Successful business men advertise to retain business when it is good and to restore business when it starts lagging.

Remember the Bulloch Times goes into practically all the homes in your trade territory—there is no other advertising medium which serves so many readers.

"YOUR NEWSPAPER"

Atlanta, July 7.—Georgia's participation in a nation-wide inspection of wholesalers to determine compliance with the fair labor standards act was stated today at Valdosta, it was announced by J. R. McLeod, regional director of the wage and hour division for Georgia, Florida and South Carolina.

A large force of inspectors assembled in the South Georgia city and spread out from there over the southern portion of the state, Mr. McLeod said. The inspection will be the first of its kind in Georgia, although wholesale grocers form the largest section of this classification. It is estimated that there are upward of 500 wholesale grocers alone employing about 5,000 persons.

Under a recent ruling by Judge Robert L. Russell, of the United States district court in this city, employees of wholesalers are covered by the act, even though they do not sell anything outside the state, if the goods they sell come directly to them from outside the state.

Said Mr. McLeod pointed out that many firms do both a wholesale and a retail business, but that to obtain the retail exemption, at least 75 per cent of their dollar volume of sales must have been in retail during the six months from January 1 to June 30, 1940.

As the inspection force makes its way upstate, it will also include inspection of about forty hitherto un-inspected canning plants as affiliated industries.

Mr. McLeod estimates that the entire month of July will be spent on the inspection of the state. He left for Atlanta Tuesday morning, after a brief stop in Savannah, to be replaced by Mr. J. R. McLeod, regional director of the wage and hour division for Georgia, Florida and South Carolina.

BATTERY "C" 214TH C. A. (RAY TRAPNEL)

Sgt. Cleon Parrish of our battery has been sent to the Coast Artillery school at Fort Monroe, Virginia, where he will study anti-aircraft electricity. He left last Friday and will be gone for eight weeks.

Lieut. Ralph Caldwell is on leave now, and will soon go to Edgewood arsenal, where he will also attend school as soon as his leave is up.

Corporal Perry Shumans left Monday for a ten-day furlough. He will visit in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Friends of Shields Kenan will be glad to learn that he has been commissioned as second lieutenant in the Army of the United States. Lt. Kenan received his commission June 13th.

Most of the men of Battery "C" had a three-day leave of absence last week, being off from Thursday night till Sunday night. Those who were not lucky enough to get the full three days off from one to two days. Camp Stewart looked like a ghost camp during the holidays. Only enough men were left here to carry on the necessary duties.

The army is conducting a night school in Hinesville now; there are two classes each week. Typing and shorthand are being offered. The men from Battery "C" were quick to grab this opportunity, as there are more men going to this school from our outfit than from any other three batteries in the 214th. The men will come home next year much wiser and smarter than when they left, for instance, they will know how to sew their own buttons on, sweep floors, wash dishes (and then press them). They will be experts at dish washing—in fact, they will make all-around good housewives when they marry.

EX-SERVICE MEN ALSO TO REGISTER

Notice of Requirement Is Given By Director of Georgia Selective Service

Men who have served in the active National Guard are required to register immediately upon expiration of their service even though they are not, under certain conditions, liable for further peacetime training and service under the selective service act.

That fact was stressed in a statement issued by Brig. Gen. Sion B. Hawkins, director of selective service for Georgia, who said that all such men should present themselves to the local board of registration immediately upon their discharge.

"The act is specific," said Director Hawkins, "in requiring registration of men within the age group of 21 and 26 who have served in the National Guard. Men who are members of the selective National Guard on October 16 last, and who have completed six or more consecutive years, are relieved from liability for peacetime service and training, but they must register. Those who were members of the National Guard and have served less than six years are relieved neither from registering nor training."

Director Hawkins said that his attention had been called to the fact that some men in the National Guard in federal service who have been discharged because of expiration of their service have not registered. They should do so immediately, he stated, and added that the war department has now issued instructions that such men shall be notified by their organization commanders at the time of their discharge of the necessity to register.
